THE WILD WINDS ARE SAYING

That We May Have Another Newspaper,

ORGAN OF REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Prominent Local Republicans Are Interested in the Scheme—G. S. Bradshaw to be the Editor.

It has been quietly rumored around that the Republicans were to establish a weekly state newspaper here shortly. A TELEGRAM man learns from a gentleman who is in a position to know that leading and prominent Republicans are considering the advisability of the enterprise.

Greensboro has come to be considered as a Republican center, and if such a paper is to be established this city is the logical place from which it should be published. Here is located the United States Marshal's office, which, of course, would aid the paper financially. Then most of the county officers are Republicans, who would naturally take much interest in the success of the journal.

Besides these facts, Greensboro is the home of quite a number of prominent Republicans, and is the center of attraction for those high in the councils of the Republican party from all sections of the State.

Nothing looking to a definite settlement of the matter has yet been done, though it is quite probable that the projected enterprise will mature in a short time.

Such men as U. S. Marshal Millikan, Tyre Glenn, G. S. Bradshaw, Sheriff Hoskins, Clerk of the Court Ragan, J. A. Hodgin, together with others, will probably be the financial backers of the new enterprise.

G. S. Bradshaw has been mentioned as editor. He is a clever gentleman, with considerable experience in politics, and would doubtless make a good editor. It is more than probable that this new paper had something to do with his removal to this city.

If the Republicans will publish a paper equal to the North State, we see no reason why it should not be a success in every way. As matters now stand the Republican party is practically without an organ in this state, and now that they are in power it is but natural they should feel the need of such an organ.

The North State, before it was consolidated with the Winston Republican, was considered as one of the best weekly papers in the country, and wielded a mighty influence for the Republican party.

There is no reason why such a paper could not now be published with even greater success.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

Tales Told by Our Advertisers in Today's Paper.

Shrier, the new shoe man, has contracted for space in THE TELEGRAM, and we take pleasure in calling your attention to his ad. He has one of the nicest stocks ever brought into the state, and his prices are O. K. Go down and take a look at his store; it is one of the neatest places in town.

You will find in another column the advertisement of the new china store. It occupies the stand formerly occupied by W. J. McDuffie, who has moved. The crockery stock presents a beautiful appearance, and we are told that the prices and goods will suit the trade.

J. M. Hendrix & Co. announce that they are headquarters for shoes. They have a beautiful up-to-date $5.00 shoe that is going for $3.50.

Matthews, Chisholm & Stroud announce to our readers in to-day's paper that their stock for the fall trade is complete, with the exception of a few novelties which have come out since the season opened. These Mr. Matthews will secure next week while in the northern markets. Give them a call and they will please you or know the reason why.

"A thing of beauty and a joy forever." Alderman tells you something of carbonette photographs in today's paper. For the next thirty days a cabinet will be included with each dozen regular cabinets.

Henry Hunter advertises excellent vinegar at 25 cents per gallon. He has also a fine lot of lemons just opened.

The Hotel Mortom is for rent. See penny column for notice.

Fife's Meeting.

A gentleman who came down from High Point today tells us that Fife's meetings are fairly well attended, though no great wave of excitement or enthusiasm is sweeping over the town. His assistant, Rev. Mr. Leavitt, is attracting some attention with his faith cure doctrine.

Two Things We Have Found Out!

Two things we have found out, only two, but they are certain:

FIRST—Greensboro needs more new buildings, more dwelling houses.

SECOND—If you want people to see a thing, and read it, put it in THE TELEGRAM. How did we find out these two things? Just this way: Notice of two houses to rent was put in our want column with instructions to call at this office; over thirty people called in a week bringing a clipping of the notices.

And thus we know that Greensboro is growing and that people

POINTS FROM HIGH POINT.

Personal and Local Affairs Briefly Mentioned.

TELEGRAM BUREAU,
HIGH POINT, N. C., Sept. 9, '97.

The Snow Lumber Co., of this place, will establish a planing mill at Studs, on the Asheboro road. A large dry kiln has been built and the building for the mill will be commenced at once.

The people of High Point are enthusiastic over the prospects of telephonic communication with Greensboro. This is a move in the right direction and we don't think it will be very long before we will be enabled to give THE TELEGRAM news from our growing and progressive city up to the hour of going to press.

The acquittal of the murderer of Mr. Sid T. Blair, at Little Rock, Ark., was quite a surprise to the friends of Mr. Blair in this section. Careful investigation had been made and the evidence clearly proved that he was murdered without cause or provocation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harris are visiting in Greensboro this week.

The Bible and flag, ordered by the Junior Order to be presented to the Graded school, have arrived.

The announcement in your Tuesday's issue to the effect that Dr. Long would remove to Salisbury, was received here with much surprise. However, we are informed that the family will not leave for some time yet, and that he will not sever his co-partnership with Dr. Stanton.

The series of meetings at the warehouse are being well attended and great interest is being manifested.

Rev. W. L. Crissom, of Greensboro, was in the city last night.

O. C. Wysong, representing the J. A. Fry & Egan Co., of Cincinnati, was at Jarrell's this morning.

Can't Endure the Dust.

People living on the principal residence streets have been bothered no little by the dust of late. It has been very dry, and with a little wind the dust is almost unbearable.

The people living on Asheboro street have probably suffered more than those on any other street, for that street is traveled more than any other thoroughfare leading into the city. They have taken steps to have the street sprinkler go out and give them some relief.

Buried Yesterday.

Mrs. J. P. Estes, who died in Houston, Va., Tuesday, was buried in that place yesterday afternoon. Messrs. W. B. East and John B. Graham, brothers-in-law, and Miss Nellie Fowler, sister of the deceased, attended the funeral from this city.

Mrs. Estes was a daughter of Mrs. Fowler, of this city, and had many friends here who learned of her death with sincere sorrow.

Deaf Mutes.

A car load of deaf mutes came up from the east on the Raleigh train last night on their way to the deaf and dumb institution at Morganton. They had been at their homes enjoying vacation.

The company was joined here by ten or twelve who came up on the C. F. & Y. V. train, and they went on to Morganton on the fast mail.

Will Call the Strike Off.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 9.—The national convention of the united mine workers met at 10 a. m., appointed a committee on credentials and then adjourned until 1 p. m. It is probably the largest delegate miners' convention ever held, and Columbus has had most of them.

West Virginia is represented by twelve or fifteen delegates. This is very unusual. The reporters gather information from various delegations to the effect that the convention will probably decide to return to work, but this decision cannot be reached until after a hard fight, the opposition coming from Illinois, Indiana and a small section or two in Ohio.

FIFTEEN DROWNED.

The River Being Dragged for Their Bodies Today.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 9.—Detroit river is being dragged today for the bodies of fifteen people who were drowned by the capsizing of the sloop yacht Blanche B from this city. There were on board the yacht yesterday evening a gay party of seventeen men and women and she went over during a strong and sudden gust of wind, drowning all but two of the men. Thillman and O'Brien, who succeeded in climbing on the upturned boat and clinging there until rescued early this morning.

A later dispatch adds that the bodies of six of the men drowned on the Blanche B have been recovered from the lake today.

READS LIKE A DIME NOVEL.

The Story of the Grip That Held $250,000 Worth of Diamonds.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

LOREDO, Tex., Sept. 9.—The story of the loss and recovery of by Senor Pedri Trueba of a valise containing $250,000 worth of diamonds, stocks and bonds is exciting great attention, both here and in Mexico. Senor Trueba arrived here today from Venegas and claimed his valise after describing the contents to the collector of customs.

Trueba states that he lost it August 9th while returning to his hacienda from a journey. He handed his valise to a man whom he mistook for one of his serving men.

The valise disappeared and several men are now in jail in connection with the robbery.

A Weather Eye on Anarchists.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—In response to a request from the Government of the United States the authorities of the Scotland Yard bureau have been instructed by the British government to furnish information to the United States authorities when anarchists are known to be embarking for the United States. This information will be used to turn back all all anarchists who attempt to land in the United States.

$50,000 Burned in a Paper Factory.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

PARK RIDGE, N. J., Sept. 9.—The large carbon paper factory of Millage & Volger was totally destroyed by fire today. The cause of the fire is a mystery. The loss is estimated at $50,000 and several hundred hands are thrown out of employment.

Spain Favors American Goods.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

MADRID, Sevt. 9.—The official gazette today publishes the new customs tariff for Cuba. Nearly all of the American goods shipped to the island in the ordinary course of trade are subject to lower duty.

PROSPERITY CAME TOO LATE.

Two Big Business Concerns Fail.

WELL KNOWN FIRM GOES UNDER

Silsby & Company Turn their Toes up ---Claim Temporary Embarrassment.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—J. R. Willard & Company, brokers, who have offices at 55 Broadway, in this city, and who have operated largely in railway stocks, failed this morning. The announcement of the failure was reported on the street immediately after the opening of the stock exchange.

This firm has a large branch office in Chicago and is one of the best known on the board of trade. J. R. Willard, the head of the firm, is one of the familiar figures on the Chicago board. He has control of the western office. The firm assigned to J. L. Starbuck.

SCORCHERS WILL BURN WIND.

World's Champion Cyclists Matched for a Purse of $5,000.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Jimmy Michael, Eddie McDuffie and Lucien Lesnaw, the three fastest long distance wheelmen of the world and holders of the world's record, have been matched to ride a three cornered race. The event will take place on September 18th, for a purse of five thousand dollars.

The Burglars Hailed from Oklahoma.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Burglars attempted to rob the postoffice at Harpersville this morning. They blew off the door of the safe, but the noise of the explosion aroused several people in the neighborhood and the burglars were frightened away.

They left a kit of tools and some dynamite wrapped in an Oklahoma paper. One of the burglars was dressed in women's clothes.

Stock and Grain Brokers Break.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Geo. W. Silsby & Company, stock and grain brokers, who have branch offices in Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York, failed today. Notice was posted this morning that the firm would have to close because of temporary embarassment. It is expected that a settlement will be made in a few days.

THE Spanish Premier, Azcarraga, has written a letter in which he declares, "we are ready to go to all extremes, even to war if necessary, to defend our sacred rights in Cuba." "Sacred rights" is good, coming as it does from a nation that has left few laws, divine or human, unbroken in the prosecution of a fatricidal war against a people goaded into revolt by persecutions and exactions that even Turkey can not parallel. Whatever rights Spain may have had in the island have been pretty well wiped out since hostilities began. She has frozen the sympathy of the civilized world for her misfortunes by her ruthless trampling on the rights of others. It is too late to talk of rights. It is now purely a case of might.

APROPOS of criticisms of Rockefeller's gifts, the Norfolk Landmark asks: "Is it the object of the tirades against him to make him keep all of his money locked up in his own coffers?"

So far as we have been able to see, it is Mr. Rockefeller's desire to lock everybody else's money in his coffers that is the subject of criticism. He shows also that he is by no means averse, in lieu of money, to lock people's opinions and convictions in his coffers—or any other place that may be convenient. And this latter inclination, it may be noted, the Landmark very promptly rushed forward to defend.

THE maddened rush for the Klondyke gold fields shows that it is unsafe to count upon man as a thoroughly reasonable being. In the face of obstacles pronounced insurmountable by those who have a right to know, thousands persist in starting at this season of the year. It is safe to say that a man's chances of life would be larger in going through an ordinary war than in attempting to reach the Klondyke now. Yet the man who would seek an asylum in a hollow tree, in case of war, will start for the gold fields without even provisions to last him through the winter.

IT IS now given out that Mr. Croker is exceedingly modest, so modest, indeed, that he blushes when he sees his name in print. The tabulated statement of the boss' virtues now going the rounds of the press is pretty good evidence that his modesty will allow him to accept the Tammany nomination for mayor. The New York World's London correspondent, who came over in the same ship with Mr. Croker, has made the quite original discovery that his qualifications for superintendent of a Sunday school are only second to his fitness for mayor.

THE promptness of the steps taken to stamp out the yellow fever in the far south is an instance eloquent of what mankind owes to science. A century ago it would have become a scourge, ravaging sections and claiming thousands of victims; today the probabilities are all on the side of its speedy extermination. To know what to do and how to do it promptly—that is the contribution of science.

THE returns of the assessors in Philadelphia show a falling off in the vote since last fall. That is easily explained: a man continues to vote, in a pinch, for ten or twelve years after he is dead; but the "ashes to ashes, dust to dust" puts a quietus on the poll-tax business.

EMPEROR WILLIAM is urging the officers of his regiments to lead a simple life. The Emperor should write out a list of precepts; then if the officers lived up to them their lives would be simple, indeed.

THE Germans are to buy Tung Tung from the Chinese. That is squandering good money. They can get all the tongue tongue they want in this country without paying a red for it.

A NEW device has been invented which prevents kettles from boiling over. We respectfully suggest that the inventor now give some time to the case of ex-Senator Irby.

IT IS pertinent to enquire whether senators, in their anxiety to dodge responsibility for that extra ten per cent. clause, are not putting senatorial dignity hors de combat.

MISS CHARLOTTE SMITH, who is insisting that no bachelor has a right to hold office, seems likely to remain a bachelor maid.

TO remove or not to remove is now the question with Governor Russell.

Good Times in Alabama.

The Montgomery Advertiser states that Alabama is now producing 1,000,000 bales of cotton, 50,000,000 bushels of corn, 1,000,000 tons of pig iron and 6,000,000 tons of coal, and that the state can easily increase these productions to 2,000,000 bales of cotton, 100,000,000 bushels of corn, 5,000,000 tons of pig iron and 25,000,000 tons of coal, and maintain the rate of production for an indefinite period.

Col. Avery Killed.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 8.—Col. Isaac W. Avery, at one time editor of the Atlanta Constitution, former minister to Mexico and commissioner of the South American republics for the Cotton States and International Exposition of 1895, fell from the porch of his residence in Kirkwood, a suburb of this city, last night, and died today from the effects of the fall.

Alabama's Quarantine.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 9.—In accordance with the recommendations of the State Board of Health, Governor Johnston has issued a quarantine proclaiming against all places infected with yellow fever.

Having qualified as administrator of T. C. Lamb, deceased, late of Guilford county, N. C., before Ed. L. Ragan, clerk of the superior court of said county, I hereby notify all persons indebted to said estate to make immediate payment; and all persons having claims against said estate to present the same to me duly authenticated on or before the 10th day of September, 1898, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery.

This is also to give notice that at the late residence of said deceased in said county, I shall sell for cash to the highest bidder, on Thursday, the 30th day of September, 1897, the personal property of said estate, consisting of two mules, one horse, ten head of hogs, lot of wheat, lot of oats, farming and smith tools and other articles, too numerous to mention.

This 7th day of September, 1897.

Napoleon Shaved Himself!

So Does Ex-President Cleveland.

This fact, however, does not necessarily imply that all great men shave themselves, or that all men who shave themselves are great. In fact, this is not a matter of any concern to the great army of men who prefer to shave themselves. It is important, however, to have

NEWS OF THE TAR HEEL STATE.

Charlotte's new bicycle track was opened last night.

The University will begin the fall term next Monday.

Milam, the defaulting ticket agent, is on trial at Charlotte.

The school for the deaf and dumb at Morganton opened today.

Two nundred bales of cotton were marketed in Raleigh yesterday.

Inspector B. S. Royster inspected the Governor's Guard yesterday.

Two young colored men were drowned while in bathing at Masonboro.

Dr. Buffaloe, of Raleigh, is suffering from a painful kick by his horse.

The Horner military school opened with the largest attendance for several years.

The negroes of Buncombe are objecting because they are not drawn on juries.

Mr. Hyams, the new botanist of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, arrived yesterday.

An attempt was made to burglarize the jewelry store of Charles Reisner in Salisbury. The burglar escaped.

The keeper of the capitol says it is quite certain that the fence around the building will not be removed this year.

An effort will be made to have those of Salisbury's fire department who work out of town dropped from the force.

It is said that the yield of tobacco and the curing is better in the Rocky Mount section than has been known for years.

The charge is made that Superintendent Hughes, of the state farm, is given to indulging rather freely in fire water.

Miss Rosa Crews, of Durham county, fell from a hammock and broke her collar bone yesterday, says the Durham Sun.

The evidence in the North Carolina Railway case shows that the old Board of Directors spent $2,712.50 for lobbying in the last legislature.

Mr. Roberts, formerly bookkeeper for the Raleigh Tribune, has been summoned to Salisbury as a special witness in the North Carolina railroad case

The Agricultural Department will issue no crop reports for September, for the reason, Secretary Ramsey says, that the crops have finished growing.

Concord defeated Mountain Island in a great game of baseball, by a score of 11 to 10, in Charlotte yesterday. Reed and Bailey, the University battery, played with Concord.

The bodies of two men came ashore on Albemarle sound, in Tyrell county, yesterday. One of the bodies was that of a white man and the other that of a negro. Both had been partially eaten by crabs.

It will require a fortnight's time to get all the changes made in the arrangements of the exhibits in the old rooms of the State Museum, and not before October 1 will the furniture and exhibits be completely arranged in the new rooms.

The State Commissioner of Agriculture says that while the cotton crop is as good as last year, it is not any better. The dry weather has injured cotton greatly in many sections and in some it is almost a complete failure. Rust is also doing harm to the crop.

The Roaring Gap hotel, including buildings and furniture, was sold by Trustees W. F. Vogler and Frank Fries yesterday. It brought $5,000, the purchasers being Messrs. H. G. Chatham, of Elkin, and W. C. Fields and R. H. Hackles, of Sparta. The property originally cost $14,000.

An attempt is being made to have W. S. Miller, of Iredell, pardoned. He is serving a ten years' sentence for killing Jack Wilfong. Miller was first condemned to be hung, but was granted a new trial and sent to the penitentiary for the time named. He has already served five years of his term.

Clay McCarthy, the 15-year old white boy, from Asheville, who was at first simply detained in the penitentiary until Governor Russell could get him into a reformatory, is an incorrigible. He was not put in convict clothing, and was allowed to sleep in the guard's room. Really, no work was given him. Night before last he stole $6.70 from a guard, slipped out and scaled the wall and went to Raleigh. Yesterday a guard caught him here. Warden Russell gave the bad boy a good whipping with an old-fashioned switch, and put him at hard work and in clothing. McCarthy used a knife with terrible effect upon another Asheville boy.—Raleigh Cor. Charlotte Observer.

CHUB IS THE NAME OF A FISH, also of a good piece of tobacco.

THE BEST PIECE OF SUN CURED tobacco is called Chub.

THE NEW GOLDFIELD.

VALUABLE HINTS FOR THOSE WHO GO TO KLONDIKE.

Many Treasure Seekers Will Remain Forever In the Frozen Land—Grave Apprehensions Regarding the Probable Fate of Foolhardy Prospectors.

For the use of travelers in the Klondike region ordinary woolen clothing for the body and leather boots for the feet are utterly unsuitable and can be worn only at serious risk. Indian snowshoes are essential. The Norwegian variety is worthless.

As the season advances the snow settles, and at night a firm crust forms. The most favorable months for traveling are March and April. The midwinter days are short, with sunlight in some latitudes from 10 in the morning to 8 in the afternoon. When necessary, one can travel fairly well by starlight and moonlight over the snowy tundra, but not in the woods. In May the snow is wet and heavy and travel difficult. Pools of water and the first mosquitoes then begin to appear. By May 20 the river bursts its bonds of ice and floods the lowlands, ice, debris and broken timber pouring, with a grinding noise, headlong toward the sea. For at least a week navigation is impossible.

Summer, swift footed, trips upon the heels of winter. The sun pours down with a violence not soon forgot, though in the shade it is always cool. The cry of the brant, northward bound, is continually heard, and myriads of smaller waterfowl appear on every hand. All the minor forms of life native to the region or migrants from the south with startling suddenness people the copses and pervade the air. Vegetation springs into leaf and flower at a bound, and with hardly a hint of spring summer is upon us.

Mosquitoes, the pest of the north, appear in clouds. Except in midstream or where a brisk breeze is blowing life without a net and leather gloves is misery. The Indians smear their faces with a mixture of grease and charcoal and paddle with a smudge on a square of turf in the bows of their birch canoes. The caribou, moose and bear, driven from the thickets, plunge into the river for a temporary respite. Curiously enough, during three summers black flies and midges, so plentiful to the eastward, were encountered only once on the Yukon. Possibly near its headwaters our luck would have been worse.

The records show that the lower Yukon valley has a summer temperature much in excess of that normal to the latitude. As the days are long, the traveler will prudently sleep at noon, and utilize for his work the cooler hours when the sun sweeps low along the northern horizon and the mosquitoes are less active.

Frosts appear in mid-September. Early in October the Yukon begins to be covered with ice, though it is not fully ice bound until late in November. So the round is completed.

One serious danger menaces the large population now pouring into the district. The upper Yukon is a country where subsistence has always been difficult. The first party which ever reached it—that under Robert Campbell of the Hudson Bay company, who named the Pelly river—though composed of seasoned voyageurs, was, if tradition be reliable, forced to support life by cannibalism before it could reach help. In 1866, not more than 300 Indians were able to find subsistence between Fort Yukon and Fort Selkirk. The abundant fish and game of the lower Yukon are absent. The river steamers available for transportation cannot, during the remainder of the present season, carry up to Dawson City much more food than will supply its present population. It seems improbable that any large proportion of the people now hurrying over the Chilkat portage can transport—if indeed they possess—food enough to carry them over the winter and up to the arrival of summer supplies from the lower Yukon.

Very serious hardships, and even probable starvation, therefore, confront the rash and foolhardy who push forward without proper supplies into a region whose limitations they do not realize. Fortunately, it is likely that many of those least prepared for the undertaking will never get over the divide, and will be obliged to remain in southeastern Alaska, where the rush to Klondike will have left open many opportunities for employment. Were it otherwise, the coming winter and spring would probably furnish material for tragedy. Even as it is, the circumstances offer ground for very grave apprehensions.—Professor W. H. Dall in September Forum.

Slid Down a Shoot.

George Geiger, living in Second street, San Francisco, fell five stories in the Spreckels building at Third and Market streets and fortunately escaped being seriously injured.

Geiger is a painter and was engaged in painting some woodwork on the seventh floor, when he stumbled into a shoot and fell to the second floor. He was picked up by a fellow workman and subsequently removed to the Receiving hospital. The doctor who examined him found that he had escaped with severe abrasions of the hands, legs and arms.—San Francisco Chronicle.

To Elude Plague Officials.

Hindoos in the plague district are employing many devices to elude the officials seeking for plague cases. One man who had died was set up at a table with cards in his hands, while its friends sat around him making believe that they were playing a game. The stolid expression on the corpse's face led one official to put his hand on his shoulder, when it fell over to the floor. In Yella Reddi two girls were dying. Their relatives cut their throats and buried the bodies before the coming of the officials.

Rev. J. W. Lee came in on the noon train from Randleman, where he held a good revival meeting.

Mrs. M. E. Turner has returned from an extended visit to her son, Dr. A. E. Turner, at Yorkville, Tenn.

T. A. Chisholm and wife, and Miss Etta Watkins, of Ramseur, passed through today on their way to New York.

C. W. Bynum and daughter, Miss Nellie, of Bynum's, Chatham county, are in the city on a visit to Mrs. I. H. Clegg and family.

J. S. Hayden returned last night from a short business trip to Lynchburg, Charlottesville, Alexandria and Washington City.

A. G. Warren and wife, of Wilmington, passed through last night on their way to Newton to visit relatives. Mrs. Warren is a sister of Mrs. Will R. Rankin.

B. R. Collins, baggage master on the Winston road, who has been confined by sickness for a week or two, was able to come down to Greensboro this morning. He hopes to be able to resume his run in a few days.

Charles R. Watkins, who was formerly yard conductor for the Southern at this place, but now with the Seaboard Air Line at Abbeville, S. C., came in this morning on a short business trip. He will return tonight.

Prof. A. H. Patterson and bride, who were married at Chapel Hill yesterday, spent last night in the city. Prof. Patterson is a member of the faculty of the University of Georgia, and his bride is a daughter of Prof. Eben Alexander, of our State University.

Mrs. J. B. Gill, who has been at the Benbow, left for her old home in Toledo, Ohio, this morning, accompanied by her little son, Floyd. Mrs. Gill was a very charming woman and will be missed by her many friends here. She is expected to return in about a month.

We were glad to receive a call this morning from Rev. Charles A. G. Thomas, of Fayetteville, who was on his way to Graham, where he delivers an address before the Jr. O. U. A. M. tonight. Mr. Thomas formerly lived in Greensboro and has a host of friends who are always glad to make him feel at home when in the city.

The Brockman Singing Class.

The singing class for men, which is to begin next week at the Brockman School of Music, has been inaugurated to fill a want. It will be worth much to every young man to be able to sing from notes, so that he can take an intelligent part in all kinds of concerted singing. And now that we have such a strong orchestra organized in our city, we ought, in a year or two, to hear some of the great works composed for chorus and orchestra. Let the good work go on.

Buried Today.

Mrs. Rebecca Wilson, who died near Summerfield yesterday morning, was buried at Center church today. She was the mother of C. B. Wilson, of this city, and Rev. W. H. Wilson, a Baptist minister of Madison.

Mrs. Wilson was seventy-three years old, and for a number years had been a faithful and consistent member of the Baptist church.

Where is Our Football Team?

We have not heard anything for some days now from football circles. Those interested should remember that it takes practice to get a team in shape. Practice grounds should be secured at once and interest in the matter worked up. There is always an abundance of work to be done, and it takes time to do it. Rush the matter along.

Appetites Unimpaired.

Mr. J. Henry Phipps desires a report that has been circulated to the effect that his children have scarlet fever, corrected. He states that none of them are sick, and he has cause to know that their appetites are still unimpaired.

Will Play Tennis.

The Greensboro Tennis Club has received a letter from the Guilford College Club saying that they will arrange for some games later. Guilford has some excellent players and a good series may be looked for.

BIT THE DUST.

To High Point on Their Wheels to Hear Evangelist Fife.

Rev. W. L. Grissom and Mr. A. W. Vickory left here on their wheels after 5 o'clock yesterday evening for High Point to hear Bill Fife preach. They had a splendid run, with the exception of the dust, but just before they reached their destination one of those incidents that are calculated to make a man forget his catechism occurred.

Mr. Vickory takes great pleasure in telling of the mishap, for it was an accident, and will have the laugh on Mr. Grissom for a long time. He says they were scorching along at about a 2:40 gait, when they discovered a negro boy several rods in front of them rolling a large hoop or wheel in the road.

They rang their bells and yelled at the boy to get out of the way. He dropped the hoop and ran. Mr. Grissom, who was in front, was too near to stop, so he ran into the hoop lying on the ground, and there was a case of "a wheel within a wheel," and a mighty "biting of the dust."

Mr. Vickory says it was better than a circus to see Mr. Grissom untangle himself from the wreck and run that "coon" through the woods, but Sambo outran the preacher.

Selling His Mother's Spectacles.

This morning a young white boy called at the residence of A. A. Johnson, on Gorrell street, and offered for sale a pair of gold-rimmed spectacles. He was very anxious to dispose of the glasses, offering to sell them for a small sum.

There was something suspicious about the boy's appearance, and a policeman was sent for. Officer Scott was soon upon the scene, when the boy began to cry, saying the glasses belonged to his dead mother, and that he was trying to sell them to get a little money to help him along, all of which may or may not be true.

The boy gave his name as Harry Richards. Phe policeman turned him loose and admonished him to get out of town, and he got.

Looking After Them.

In every party of the city there is evidence that our streets are being carefully looked after; just that little attention in time which saves money and labor later. When the work is completed the bad weather of winter will find the streets in better condition than for some years. Our citizens will not be slow to note and appreciate this effort to put things in ship-shape.

Literary and Social.

The regular monthly literary and social meeting of the Epworth League of Centenary church will be held at the residence of E. E. Bain, on Ashe street, tomorrow evening. A pleasant programme will be rendered, and it is desired that every member of the League be present.
